Come On To Breakfast
We're going to have piping hot griddle cakes and Velva. Something about that kind of a combination that'll make you want breakfast all day. But cakes can't be right unless you do have to smother them in. Guess I'll eat my share and yours if you don't hurry. You can't find the like of Velva anywhere—it just has a goodness and flavor all its own. I hope, your grocer's. Red or green cans.

Women's Organizations

Wednesday the club women of El Paso will celebrate the birthday anniversary of the Woman's club. The first feature of the day will be a birthday luncheon at 1 o'clock. In the ballroom of the Toltice club. At 2 o'clock the annual program of original work from the three departments of the club, the literary, music and art, will be given. The art department will exhibit work of its members in oils, water color and china painting. The literary department will present a series of original poems. The selection of the original poems, stories and musical compositions was made Monday by a secret committee. The work was numbered as is customary in such contests, so that there would be absolutely no partiality. No awards are made. The program selected will form the afternoon's program.

Opening the program, Mrs. T. M. Carcano will play her piano composition, "Benediction."
Two poems, "Wedding Bells" and "Pure in Heart," will be read by Mrs. T. M. Carcano.

Mrs. T. C. Phillips' story, "The Last Tide," will be read by Miss Grace Virginia.

"Romance," composed by Mrs. J. J. Pearce, for the piano and violin, will be played by Mrs. Pearce, with Miss Ruth Haggin playing the violin.

A poem, "One of Heller's Nuits Blanches," written by Mrs. O. C. Elliott, will be read.

Mrs. C. R. Stevens will read her story, "Honey Furniture."

Two songs composed by Francis L. Moore will be sung by Mrs. Moore. "If Thou But Care" and "Thou and I." Miss Ruth Haggin, who lived in El Paso some time ago, wrote the words for the first song and the latter is from the poem by Lanier.

The program will close with the reading of the minutes of a Star, written by Mrs. S. J. Fennell.

The monthly social and story hour of the Camp Fire Girls was held Monday afternoon at the central Young Women's Christian association rooms. About 40 girls were present with their camp fire guardians. Mrs. H. T. Bowie, who is the chief guardian of all the camp fires, was in charge of the afternoon. After the girls sang, games and folk dancing were enjoyed. The program, under the leadership of Miss Della Kiefer and Miss Dorothea Hart, guardians of the Southwestern camp fire. Miss Kiefer played the music for the dances.

Then came the story hour, when Mrs. J. W. Tappan narrated the wonderful story of the French peasant girl, Jeanne d'Arc, her great service for France, her cruel betrayal by the people she served and her brutal execution. The story in a most graphic way and made a very deep impression upon her young girl hearers.

After the story, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the social committee, Mrs. William Hogarth, Mrs. C. C. Arthur, Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. J. A. Potter. Among the camp fire guardians present were: Mrs. Robert E. Bone, guardian of the new camp fire, recently organized at the Elks school; Mrs. R. L. Daniels and Mrs. E. M. Yale, guardians of the newly organized camp fire at the Bailey school; Mrs. E. P. Hankin and Mrs. George J. Harris, of the Poisonage camp fire; Miss Della Kiefer and Miss Dorothea Hart, of the Southwestern camp fire; Mrs. F. W. Norton, of the Elbow camp fire.

Texas Independence day was observed by the Rebekah Bazaar chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Monday with an interesting program in the parlors of the Elks club. Two Texas songs "Texas Land" and "The Lone Star State" were sung by the girls. The program was given by Miss Gertrude Evans, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Evans.

Mrs. Darden S. Evans read a paper on Texas Independence, giving, beside her own notes, extracts from addresses made by Texans of the Texas day of independence. Mrs. Carolyn Payne Harris sang "Rose in Bud," accompanied by Miss Margaret Mathews. Mrs. Will T. Owen sang "Spring" and "Little Irish Girl," accompanied by Mrs. Adine T. Owen.

Mrs. G. F. Hawks was chairman of the afternoon's program. Preceding the program a business meeting was held, with the regent, Mrs. H. W. Broadus, presiding. Arrangements for the annual birthday party of the chapter were made. This will be held on the day after Easter, April 12, in the parlors of the Elks club. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed, with refreshments of ice cream and cake served by the hostesses of the day, who were Mesdames Alice V. French, Winston Pettus, E. S. Stewart, C. E. Earle, G. F. Hawks, Nathan D. Lane, Lee H. Ordorff, G. P. Pickens and W. S. Tilton.

Next week, on Friday evening, the girls of the first organized camp fires will entertain the girls of the newly organized camp fires at the central Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Church Affairs
A very interesting business meeting of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church was held at the home of Miss Isabel Springer on Saturday afternoon. In addition to the reports of the various committees of the class, Miss Taylor, in charge of the missionary work of the class, reported that $25 was going forward this week to the class's special missionary in China; and Mrs. T. W. Lanier, in charge of the local charity work, reported $5 spent in relief of the sick. After the business session, a social period was enjoyed and delightful refreshments were served by Misses Springer, McKnight and Harris.

Mrs. Vincent McMeekin is entertaining the women of the Highland Park Baptist church this afternoon at her home, on Copper avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Craddock entertained Monday night with a reception to Rev. A. E. Boyd, of the Highland Park Baptist church, given as a welcome back to his parish, after a sojourn of two months in Fort Worth, where he attended the Baptist seminary for some special study. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Craddock were: Rev. A. E. Boyd, his sister, Miss Myrtle Boyd, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Carter and Mrs. Ada Rose.

The house was attractively decorated with pink and white carnations. In great quantities about the rooms, which were lighted with pink candles. Mrs. Mark Griffith and Mrs. C. K. Gray assisted the hostess in the dining room. Cake and cream, the cream in pink and white also carrying out the color plan. The table was decorated with pink carnations and pink candles.

During the evening fruit punch was served by Miss Grace Robertson and Miss Della, Von Eriksen.

About 75 of the Highland Park parishioners attended the reception.

Dances
The young men of the Merry Bunch club entertained the members at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wade recently. It was a most enjoyable affair. Vocal music by Miss Ethel Butler and Mr. Wade, dancing and cards were the features of the evening. Hereafter the bunch will meet only once a month, on the first Friday. On Friday, "13th," the members of the club will attend in a body the E. of L. of Security entertainment at the K. of P. hall. The following members and friends were present: Misses Ethel and Thelma Butler, Marjorie Greene, Gladys Hailles, Bess and Virginia Harrison, Clara De Kaster, Alice Cook, Messrs. Leslie Reed, Adolph Buquor, J. C. Eddy, Newman Fowler, Foster Cole, Robert Lee, John Butler, Henry Woodruff, Tom Prothro, Clyde Lee, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wade, Mesdames Clement, Lee and Butler.

Dream Sprites and Goblins Sport In Land of Nod At School Playlet

Fairy princesses and prince charming, dream sprites and night-mare goblins, flitted about a woodland scene on the stage of the Crawford theater Monday afternoon when the school children of the Alta Vista school presented the playlet, "The Land of Nod." The playlet was well presented, and depicted the doings of the land of Nod. David Hughes, of the high school, and seated the Alta Vista youngsters, and impersonated the "King of the Land of Nod." He wore an elaborate costume of lavender, with a purple velvet train hanging from his shoulders, carried by two little pages, Billy Page, and George Hines. Upon his head was a crown of scarlet poppies, and he carried a golden scepter. Proceeding him marched his standard bearer, Chesley Reynolds, dressed in a dark blue uniform mock decorated with gold braid and gold buttons. The standard bore the legend, "To bed, to bed, says sleepy head," with a large scarlet poppy emblazoned upon it.

The king had several solos and he sang these in a pleasing manner. Lee Morris, as the "sand man," and Schuyler Reamey, as "Jack O' Dreams," narrated their doings among the children of the earth and at the king's request.

Weddings
Miss Bessie Cummings, of El Paso, and Jesse B. Royalty, of Berlin, N. M., were quietly married by Rev. Herman G. Porter at the parsonage of the First Methodist church Saturday. The bride and groom will spend a few days in El Paso, and then go to Berlin, where they will reside, the groom being in business there.

Mrs. B. Keaton and William H. Starks were married Sunday at Las Cruces, N. M., by Rev. C. K. Campbell, of the Methodist church. The couple motored up to Las Cruces from El Paso, accompanied by Mesdames A. E. Davis, Edna Haley, A. Jarrell and Olivia Appell. Both the bride and groom have resided in El Paso or some time and are well known. They will be at home to their friends at 614 North El Paso street.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

They brought in the six little sleepy-heads, to the land of Nod. The sand-dreams entered and took their places beside the little trundle beds. June Covington made a real fairy story of dream princesses. She wore a rose-colored dress made like a big rose, with a queenly court train of pale bluish rosebuds, and a high lace medall collar. About her blond curls she wore a gold band with a star on her forehead. Sherod Mengel, the dream prince, who stood by one of the little girl's beds, was dressed in a black velvet suit, with lace ruffles at his wrists and a frilled lace stock. His tri-cornered hat was adorned with a long waving black plume and he wore a valiant sword on his hip.

Effie Fletcher as "Lady Fortune" was dressed in Grecian costume with silver bands in her hair and she turned her fortune's wheel beside a little sleeping boy. Amelia Harper, as queen of dillies, visited the sleepy head girls. She wore a white fairy dress with a gold crown tipped with a star, and carried a great big and gayly dressed doll.

Mother Goose was acted by Joie Red, dressed in a red costume, with tall black pointed cap. She brought nursery rhyme dreams to a little girl, Louis Blackcamp as the stern goblin "Cain and Mast," dressed in brown, with chains and horns, a very awesome spectacle, haunted the dreams of a disobeisant boy. After the dreams had all delighted the little sleepy heads, the approaching dawn drove the "King of the Land of Nod" and his courtiers off the stage and the little sleepy heads awakened.

Mrs. Eunice Payne, the principal of the Alta Vista school, directed the production and trained the children. Mrs. Lella Moore and Miss Laura Mink directed the music and the singing. Mrs. E. C. Eversley played the piano and Miss Clara Pink played the violin in the sleepy head scene, playing Trummers.

R. Z. Berzley was the door committeeman. The play was attended by a very large audience.
